WINNIPEG, April 5, 1887.

The following additional appointments have been made in connection with the supreme court of the North-West: Northern Alberta—Calgary and Edmonton—E. A. Bily, ex-M.P., sheriff, residence, Calgary; Dundas, clerk of the court. Southern Alberta—MacLeod and Medicine Hat—D. J. Campbell, sheriff, C. N. Campbell, clerk of court. Saskatchewan—Prince Albert and Battleford—Harold E. Ross, sheriff, residence, Prince Albert.

WINNIPEG, April 7.

The Queen arrived yesterday at Aix-les-Bains. Plumb has been appointed speaker of the senate.

The Colonial conference is in progress in England.

The immigration shed in Winnipeg has been destroyed by fire.

Two companies have been formed in Winnipeg to bore for oil in the Lac Dauphin district.

Upwards of 300 immigrants arrived in Winnipeg last night, mostly from the old country. The arrivals this season are over 2,000.

Three Mounted police deserters, Waldron, Owens and McCuaig, have arrived at Fort Assiniboine, Montana, after terrible sufferings. Owens will die and probably the others as well.

Professor Tanner has arrived and intends to establish two settlements for English farmers, one at Qu'Appelle to be a training school and one other on the line of the Manitoba & North-Western.

Two ships, the Eldorado and St. Vincent, have been lost off Cape Flattery at the entrance to Juan de Fuca strait, between Vancouver Island and Washington Territory, with nearly all on board.

Brown, Douglas and two or three other members elected to support the Norquay government are said to have deserted him, and formed a new government with Brown as premier. The support of the opposition has been promised, providing certain measures are carried through, including curtailment of the expenditure, a liberal immigration policy and anti-disallowance. What the result will be is not known, but it is thought there will probably be a dissolution. Norquay has been at Ottawa some days on disallowance and other matters, and returns to-morrow. The result of his mission is not known.

A Fort Assiniboine, Montana, special, to the St. Paul Pioneer Press, says that Edward Caldwell, a wealthy Englishman, of Perrysburgh, Montana, was found murdered near home yesterday. His head was horribly mangled, and this with other indications point to British Blood Indians who raided Dare & Kennedy's ranch in that vicinity on the same night as the perpetrators of the crime. Every effort is being made to apprehend the murderers. The foreman of a cattle company at MacLeod arrived in Benton yesterday and reports hundreds of Blood Indians crossing the international line into Montana despite the efforts of the Mounted police. He met a party going north with 25 stolen horses.

THE election for the New Westminster district of British Columbia took place on March 4th, when Chisholm, conservative, was elected over Trapp, by a vote of 533 to 238. This division includes the three C. P. R. terminals, New Westminster, polling 256 votes, Vancouver, 79 and Port Moody, 40. There are nine other polling divisions in the district. If the number of voters in this district bears the same proportion to the population as in the North-West, at the same rate the North-West would be entitled to nine members instead of four. Victoria city returned two members, Baker and Shakespeare, on a vote of 632 and 606 respectively.

THE Kamloops Sentinel of March 5th notices that a train load of hay shipped from the coast was received at that station last week.

THE appointment of local men to local offices does not seem to pan out any better after the election than before in Alberta. Won't Mr. Davis kindly give his opinion on this plank of his platform as it stands now.

THE Morden News, J. F. Galbraith, proprietor, contains the prospectus of the Monitor, a new conservative weekly, to be published in Morden by the Monitor printing company (limited) J. F. Galbraith, manager.

LORE MAN was started for Regina on Saturday last to stand his trial for the murder of McIvor, on the South Branch in the summer of 1885, and for an attempt to murder constable Loasby, at Fort Pitt, the same spring.

THE total number of votes polled in the late North-West election contest was about 7,000, divided as follows: Eastern Assiniboia, 2,513, with one place to bear from; Alberta, 2,055; Saskatchewan, 1,263; Western Assiniboia, 1,151.

THE Hamilton Spectator wants to know why some of the grip papers have not counted N. F. Davin as an independent. If the Spec. feels like gambling on Mr. Davin's subservience, unless on condition of his admission to the cabinet, it had better go light for a while.

THE duck billed otter has been known to exist in Australia, but a duck billed pig is something new. Dan. Noyes, of the Long lake hotel has one. It is one of a litter a few weeks old, and has a duck's bill instead of the ordinary pig's nose. Otherwise it is not peculiar.

LAST week wolves gnawed their way through J. E. Ingram's stable door at Sturgeon river. D. B. Wilson brought a piece of the door to town for inspection. The wolves had forced their teeth through the inch board like nails, and wrenched off a strip two inches wide.

E. A. BILLY, pronounced "Bee-ye," sheriff of Northern Alberta, was M.P. for Rimouski, Quebec, during the last Parliament, but did not run in the late general election. He is a barrister, at one time held the position of stipendiary magistrate, is of middle age, married and has one daughter.

THE band of sheep brought in by McKinnon, McPherson, Norris & Carey, last fall, are coming through the winter well. Out of 1,260 head about 50 have died. Considering that they went into the winter skin poor, having been driven from southwestern Montana during the summer, and kept herded close to Edmonton, where the feed was poor, until snow fall, the loss is light. There has been no disease among them, and all are thriving well now. A ton of hay to six sheep was what was required to winter them.

ON Friday night a meeting of Scotchmen was held in Stewart & Bannerman's store to organize a St. Andrew's Society. Officers elected: President, Jas. Martin; vice president, C. W. Stewart; secretary, C. F. Strang; treasurer, R. Strachan; chaplain, Rev. A. B. Baird; physician, Dr. Fulloch. Committee of management: John Peacock, Jas. Lauder, sr., J. A. Petrie and Donald McLeod; standard bearer, Jas. McDonald; piper, T. Hourston; bard, C. L. Shaw. It was resolved to take steps towards celebrating the Queen's jubilee on June 21st.

E. NAGLE came in from Athabasca Landing on Saturday last. The large H. B. warehouse there, 30x100, story and a half high, frame, has been completed, also a store and office, 20x20, frame. Twelve York boats are being built for the northern trade to be completed by June first. Six hundred logs are now out to supply lumber for the boats and for the new warehouse at Grand Rapids, 30x50. Snow still two feet deep when Mr. Nagle left the Landing, and he took nine days coming in. J. Fraser had just arrived when he left to build six boats for C. Fraser and others.

DURING the winter he trapped $200 worth of fur including one silver grey fox which he sold for $60. Last fall, when coming down the Athabasca, he killed a moose within a day of the Landing. A band of about twelve tents of Indians was camped near the Landing all winter. They killed about a dozen moose and caught a considerable amount of fur.

DURING the late election contest it was stated by friends of the successful candidate, the the independence of parliament act would prevent the company of which he is a member receiving contracts while he held his seat in parliament. Section 10 of that act says that "No person, directly or indirectly, alone or with any other, by himself or by the intervention of any trustee or third party, holding or enjoying, undertaking or executing any contract or agreement, expressed or implied, with or for the government of Canada, for which any public money of Canada is to be paid, shall be eligible as a member of the house of commons, or shall sit or vote in the said house." But section 15 provides that "this act shall not extend to disqualify any person as a member of the house of commons by reason of his being a shareholder in any incorporated company having a contract or agreement with the government of Canada, except any company which undertakes a contract for the building of any public work," etc.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, APRIL 9, 1887.

IMMIGRATION.

The most important question with all classes in the Territories at this season is "What is likely to be the year's immigration?" In all countries, but especially in new ones, the increase of wealth depends upon the increase of population. If the population increases rapidly people have a chance to better their financial position rapidly, but if slowly they can only progress slowly. Not that those first in expect to make money directly out of those who come in afterwards. The pioneer picks out a situation as farmer, tradesman, merchant, manufacturer or professional man, not because it suits him, but because it will suit him when the country fills up around. He expects and is prepared to suffer a loss at first in order that in the end he may have a better opportunity for profit. Such a man by supplying some want of other settlers—from merely neighboring with them to keeping a store or shop at which their needs may be supplied—tends to draw others and is fairly entitled to the advantage which he may afterwards gain when settlement has increased. If a man has settled with this speculative idea—and nine out of ten settlers in a new country do so—and the population does not increase, if in four or five years, having to face hard luck perhaps for a season or so and all his money being spent there is no prospect of that immigration upon which he speculated, he naturally becomes discouraged, and when a new settler once loses courage he is gone. Courage fed by hope is what keeps him cheerful under difficulties that would have appalled the U. E. loyalists of the eastern provinces a hundred years ago, and when his courage fails and disappointment takes the place of hope, he becomes as good at painting black as he was at painting rose color, and it is an even chance whether he will do more harm by remaining in the country or by leaving it. Year after year, since the big immigration of 1882, hope has been kept alive by what have turned out to be lying reports, but this year there are not even the reports. The hope of the North-West has been of immigration from the eastern provinces. There is a natural overflow of people there which it was expected that the North-West when opened up would catch, as well as a considerable amount from the mother country. Since 1882, although means of communication have been improved, this immigration has been at a standstill if not actually decreasing. If it were that there was no such overflow during these years, that times were either so good or so bad that no one cared to emigrate, it would be less matter—our time would still surely come. But there has been a large overflow every year, and this year it promises to be larger than usual, but the emigrants are going to Dakota or British Columbia, avoiding the North-West as though it were stricken with the plague. The reason is not that the North-West does not offer greater natural advantages than either Dakota or British Columbia, nor that it has had worse seasons than either. On the contrary, Dakota suffered worse during the past year than the North-West. It is not the natural resources of the North-West that are inferior, nor that equal means of communication are lacking, nor is it a matter of national preference with Canadian settlers; indeed, in all these matters, the North-West has the advantage. It has been charged repeatedly that the administration of North-West lands was at fault; that that administration was such as to keep settlers out of the country, and to discourage and drive out those who are in. The charges have been met by quibbles, by quirks, by sophistry, by bullying, by hard lying. It has been even asserted that the opposition offered to the government and its policy was the cause of all the trouble. Opposition indeed, when from the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky mountains, the people have chosen the portion of Issachar almost every time they had the opportunity, in the hope that in some way good would come out of evil. But it is not the question who or what is to blame. The fact has to be faced that while eastern Canada is losing its people, western Canada is not gaining them. That measurably while eastern Canada is retrograding western Canada is standing still; and the question is what are those in whose hands is the administration of the country's affairs going to do about it. Is it a matter that will right itself? Truly, no, for it has been getting worse year by year in the face of all efforts to amend it. Can it be amended? Surely the government that claims to have taxed the country into prosperity will not admit that it is helpless in the face of such a simple affair. Surely its members will not own up to being mere flies on the wheel. If they are patriots or statesmen, in any sense of the word, now is their opportunity to prove it, not by a play upon words, or by fine speeches or promises, but by deeds, the results of which will prove their worth.

PARLIAMENT meets on Wednesday next, the first in which the North-West will be represented. It is well before the matter is confused by discussion to consider what our representatives are pledged to on our behalf. The course which the member for Alberta has promised to take in parliament is that of a supporter of the present administration. The leading points which he will support are: Self government and an increased subsidy for the Territories, and the opening of all reserved lands to settlement, with the promotion of settlement thereon. Other matters of less universal interest upon which he expressed himself strongly during the campaign relate to Halfbreed scrip, Increased representation, Local appointments, Rebellion claims, Main trails and Mining laws. Other candidates touched on other matters such as letting government contracts, abolition of railway monopoly and encouragement of railways, reform of the administration of timber lands, abolition of the lease system, abolition of the permit system, introduction of the ballot, etc. Mr. Davis was elected without having pledged himself on these points, and therefore he is under no obligation to urge any of them; but of the promises he has distinctly made we must suppose that he fully intends to carry them out, or will make at least an energetic attempt to do so. The only question is will his promise to support Sir John interfere with an attempt to fulfil his other promises, supposing the government to be unfavorably disposed towards the measures which he advocates. If Sir John says: "We will not grant responsible government and increased subsidy to the territories; we will not throw open the odd sections and other reserves and promote settlement upon them," what is Mr. Davis going to do about it. These are matters of such great and universal importance, matters with which the welfare of the country is so intimately connected, that if the government oppose them, as is likely, Mr. Davis must choose between the country and the party. The other matters alluded to may admit of postponement or compromise, these—especially the opening of the reserved lands—do not. It will be for our representative to choose in a very few days what course he will take; whether he will allow his pledge to support Sir John to override all other considerations, or whether that support is to be conditional on the due advancement of the country's interests as set forth by Mr. Davis, and as declared for not only by his own supporters, but by the supporters of his opponents as well—for on these points all were united—and by nine-tenths of the rest of the people of the North-West. He pledged himself to support the government—because it had best advanced the interests of the country in the past. Beyond that promise he owes it nothing—the obligation was all on one side—therefore if he thinks it is not taking proper measures to promote the welfare of the country for the future, it is his privilege as well as duty to take such course as shall seem to him most likely to advance that welfare, even though he should have to withdraw his promise of support. While the promise made has tied Mr. Davis' hands to some extent and will always render his position more difficult than it might have been it is to be hoped that the government has not found in him a willing tool, such as most of the Manitoba constituencies have always returned, but a man of spirit and independent mind who will not hesitate in helping forward good measures and as little in voting against oppression or wrong.

EDMONTON PRESBYTERIANS.

The sixth annual business meeting of the Presbyterian congregation for the year ending with the 31st of March, was held in the church on Wednesday evening. After devotional exercises and the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the Rev. A. B. Baird made a statement in regard to the work accomplished by the church during the year. The communion has received a net increase of eight members. In addition to the pastoral work hitherto undertaken at Edmonton, Belmont, Fort Saskatchewan, Clover Bar and Sturgeon, services had been carried on during the winter at McNab's, on the Stony Plain, and at McLeod's lumber camp. Student missionaries are expected from the east to take charge of the congregations at the Red Deer and Fort Saskatchewan. The Indian mission school on the Stony Plain reserve has done useful and successful work. With each succeeding year the congregation is reaching to a better position both spiritually and financially.

The report of the board of management showed that a furnace for the heating of the church had been purchased, and that the ploughing and fencing of the church grounds had been undertaken. The fence is not yet complete, but it is to be finished and the grounds put under cultivation this spring. The report recommended that the method of collecting money for church purposes be made more systematic. According to the financial statement the total revenue for the year amounts to $1,696, of this $307 was given by the outlying mission stations, $826 was paid as the congregation's proportion of the minister's salary, and $72 was paid to the schemes of the church including home missions, the augmentation of stipend and Manitoba College.

The Ladies' Aid Society presented a report of the work done by it during the year and stated that the society had undertaken the responsibility of cleaning, lighting and heating the church.

The superintendent of the Sabbath School, Mr. James Johnstone, reported that there are now 48 pupils on the roll and four teachers. A Bible class has recently been organized with James Martin as teacher. The collections taken up in the school make it self-supporting.

Douglas Petrie (re-elected) and James Martin were chosen to take the place of retiring members of the board of management. Alex. Taylor was re-elected treasurer, James Martin was chosen secretary and Thos. Hourston auditor. Votes of thanks were tendered to the ladies for their assistance, and to James Johnstone, the retiring secretary. A resolution introduced by P. G. Gray was carried recommending that steps be taken towards the election of elders.

Now that the north pole expeditions of Messrs Glider and McArthur by way of Hudson Bay have failed, it may not be out of place to point out for the benefit of future explorers the advantages of a route to the pole by way of Edmonton and Mackenzie river. By this route there is now stage or steamboat communication almost all the way from Calgary on the C. P. R. to the mouth of the Mackenzie on the Arctic ocean in latitude 70 north. A traveller starting in May, June, July or August from Winnipeg could reach the mouth of the Mackenzie, with an unlimited amount of supplies, after a comfortable passage of not more than two months, if he managed the affair properly. From the mouth of the Mackenzie westward to Behring straits is the warmest portion of the coast of the Arctic sea, and the part nearest the pole in America which can be reached without difficulty, and where unlimited supplies can be delivered at reasonable cost. Nowhere else is the climate so mild so close to the pole as at the mouth of the Mackenzie and adjacent coast to the westward. How to get over the 1,400 remaining miles between the coast and the pole is for explorers to decide, but if there is anywhere an open sea to the pole it is north of the Mackenzie.

People who think we live in a civilized country are recommended to the following item from the Snikamien items of the Kamloops, B. C., Sentinel of March 5th: "A Chinese woman, of evil repute, died some time since at Granite City. Her friends took immediate steps to administer her estate, and proceeded to raffle off a young Mongolian female, possessed of considerable personal attractions, named Awn Cha, who had been an inmate of the deceased's establishment, for the sum of $500. The tickets at $10 each were eagerly purchased by whites and Chinese. In the meantime a claimant to the possession of the female unexpectedly appeared on the scene in the person of the dead woman's husband, and the looked for event will not take place."

N. F. DAVIN, M.P. for Assiniboia, attended a St. Patrick's day dinner at Qu'Appelle station on March 17th. From the speech making it appears that Mr. Davin is a candidate for a cabinet position, no doubt as the representative of central and western Canada, and also that he is a candidate for the position of leader of the home rule Irish Catholics of Canada, a position at present vacant. There is nothing small about Mr. Davin but his soul.

Forms of tender, giving full particulars relative to the quality, quantity and points of delivery of the flour required, may be had on application to any of the above named agents, from the department of Indian affairs, Ottawa, or from the Indian commissioner for Manitoba and the North-West Territories, Regina; and no tender will be entertained which is not made out on one of those forms.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque, approved by the Indian Agent for the District, for at least five per cent. of the amount thereof, which will be forfeited if the tenderer declines to enter into a contract based on his tender when called upon to do so, or if he fails to fulfill his contract to the satisfaction of the Department. If the tenderer prefers to do so, he may deposit with the Agent, in lieu of an accepted cheque, the notes of any Chartered Bank in Canada to an equal amount. Cheques or cash accompanying tenders not accepted will be returned, but a cheque deposited by a successful tenderer will be retained until the satisfactory completion of his contract. Each tenderer is required to show in his tender the full value of all the flour which he is prepared to deliver under contract, or his tender will not be entertained.

Each tender must, in addition to the signature of the tenderer, be signed by two sureties acceptable to the Department, for the proper performance of the contract.

Tenders will be entertained for a portion or for the whole quantity of flour required at any given point.

Tenderers residing near one Agency but desiring to tender for delivery within another Agency further distant, may deposit their tenders and samples for the more distant, at the nearest of the Agencies specified above, or with the Indian Commissioner at Regina.

Samples of flour will be returned, if desired, to unsuccessful tenderers on their application, and the sample submitted by a successful tenderer may be counted by him as a delivery on account of his contract.

In all cases where transportation may be only partial by rail, contractors must make proper arrangements for their flour to be forwarded at once from railway stations to its destination in the Government Warehouse at the point of delivery.

The lowest, or any tender, not necessarily accepted.

GAME ORDINANCE.

COPIES of the North-West game ordinance have been furnished by the territorial government for posting up for general information. It provides that no elk, moose, caribou, antelope, deer or their fawn, shall be hunted, taken or killed between the 1st of February and the 1st of September in any year. No plover, snipe, grouse, partridge, pheasant, prairie chicken, wild swan, wild goose, or any kind of wild duck, sea duck, widgeon or teal, shall be shot at, hunted, taken, killed or destroyed between the 1st day of May and the 31st day of August in any year. No animal or bird named above, except wavy and hares, shall be taken or killed at any time by any snare or trap of any kind. No such snare or trap shall be placed for the purpose; and any person finding such snare or trap may take possession of or destroy the same without incurring any liability therefor. No person shall, at any time, disturb, injure, gather or take the eggs of any species of wild fowl mentioned. Game guardians having the power of constables may be appointed by the lieutenant-governor to enforce the ordinance, and such guardians shall forthwith seize all animals or birds mentioned, or parts thereof, found by him in the possession or custody of any person during the forbidden period, and may bring them before any J.P., who shall declare them confiscated, in whole or in part. Every offence against the ordinance is punishable summarily by a fine not exceeding $50 nor less than $5, half the fine goes to the informer. No prosecution shall be brought after six calendar months from the date of the offence. The provisions of the ordinance do not apply to persons in actual want, or to Indians, killing for their own use, nor to country 20 miles north of the North Saskatchewan and of the main river. Swivel guns or other means of massacring game are prohibited.

COMPLAINT has been made that several dogs have been shot in town lately—for fun. While it may be fun to the shootist or his friends, it is anything but fun for the dog, or his owner, and it is anything but fun for most of the residents of town to have rifles fired in chance directions at chance hours; for bullets so fired may chance to hit chance passers by instead of or as well as the object at which they are aimed. Owing to there being no municipality here, there is no law to prevent the discharge of firearms, but people living so close amongst neighbors should have enough regard for the common welfare not to wantonly destroy property or endanger human life. Although not liable for the latter, it is provided in regard to the former that "Every one who unlawfully and maliciously kills, maims, wounds, poisons, or injures any dog, bird, beast, or other animal, not being cattle, but being either the subject of larceny at common law, or being ordinarily kept in a state of confinement, or kept for any domestic purpose, or purpose of lawful profit or advantage or science, shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars, over and above the amount of injury done, or to three months imprisonment with or without hard labor." Subsequent offences may be punished by both fine and imprisonment.

THE Free Press publishes a telegram from Regina which intimates that the elections for twelve seats in the North-West council will be held during the coming summer, and that there will be an early session of the council. As the seats do not become vacant under the North-West Act until September, an early session will give these members three sessions during their two years of office. There is no mention as yet of the measure passed at the late session of the North-West council to bring into existence a legislative assembly for the territories being given effect.

CHILCOTEN correspondence of the Kamloops Sentinel of March 5th says that the thermometer has been down to 60 below zero in that district this winter, that every hoof of stock left out on the range will perish, that many cattle have frozen standing, that some people who have hay put up have left the cattle on the range so long that they are now too weak to stand driving to the hay through the deep snow, and are certain to die. Reports from Nicola are to the same effect.

THE Vancouver papers state that the Chinese riots in that town have been greatly overestimated, and that the British Columbia government had no cause for assuming control of the town. They further intimate however that they do not intend to allow the Chinese to work there. The trouble arose on the bringing of a gang of Chinese from Victoria to clear on the town site.

CALGARY Protestant public school district has been authorized to borrow $8,000 to expend on school buildings and sites.

A TREATY of defensive alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy has been signed. The French government is highly displeased.

THE Vancouver Herald says that the losses of cattle on the British Columbian ranges have been greater this winter than for several years past.

THERE is a prospect of a coalition in the Manitoba parliament between liberals and conservatives for the purpose of abolishing the dual language system.

MARA, M.P. for Yale district of British Columbia, has written to Sir John stating that he was elected to give the conservative government an independent support.

IN Quebec city recently a bomb was thrown into a salvation army meeting. It exploded causing great damage to the building, but only three people were seriously injured, none killed.

L'ALLIANCE, of Hull, urges the nationalist members, when the house assembles, to ask for an inquiry into the alleged charges against the government's North-West policy by Bishop Grandin, which, it is stated, were suppressed by the Premier.

MONTREAL Trade Bulletin, March 25th: "Cable advices of the London sales report an extraordinary advance in the prices of almost all lines of fur, which indicate a wonderfully healthy condition of the European market, and contrast sharply with the dull state of the New York market, which is still very flat. It will be impossible to account for this unlooked for improvement in London until particulars are received by mail.

THE Lethbridge News says, "The question is frequently asked: 'What is a householder?' In reply to this, Judge MacLeod, the highest legal authority in Alberta, has said: 'Any man who has a right to live in a house is a householder and entitled to vote under the North-West Representation Act.' He says that the meaning is so wide it will even cover the case of ranche hands or other employees living in the house of their employer."

THE first of a line of steamers to run between Fort Churchill, on Hudson bay, and Great Britain, built specially for the purpose, has been launched. She is called the Port Augusta, is built of steel and teak, is 3,000 tons burden, and steams 16 knots an hour. A sister ship, the Port Nelson, will be launched this month. In addition two more vessels are being fitted for the trade, one 1,800 tons the other 3,000 tons and will sail from London for Churchill early in June.

THE New York Herald in dealing with the fisheries question says: "As a rule the colonial Englishman is an objectionable person, for he is a braggart and swaggering and loud, but of all the Canadian Englishman is the most objectionable." The Herald is a little off in its ideas of Canadians. They are more Scotch than English and more Irish than either, not to mention the large proportion who are French. But the greater its lack of knowledge the greater the Herald's fluency.

THE MacLeod Gazette of March 22nd has an article on the election, when the result was in doubt, demanding that in any case the district of Alberta be divided for electoral purposes. The insulting allusions made to a portion of the electors of Northern Alberta—to whom, by the way Mr. Davis, the candidate of the Gazette, pandered to the fullest extent, and to whom, to a great extent, he owes his election—show that the support accorded Mr. Davis in the south was purely sectional, and that his alleged conservatism was merely a cloak to cover it. As the Gazette remarks elsewhere, it is rather significant that the Manitoban does not include Mr. Davis in the list of government members elected in the North-West, the reason, no doubt, being that it has pretty fairly sized up the strength of his conservatism. With all due deference to the new found principles of the Gazette, the less conservatism Mr. Davis has the better representative he will make, and it is to be hoped that he will not be quite as sectional as his newspaper champion.

THE Toronto World, protectionist organ, says: "So far as the finances of Canada are concerned, it is quite certain that if some new check is not put upon expenditure the country will be involved in irretrievable ruin, the people will be debauched and politics will be degraded to a game of grab. What is the remedy? All very true. But what has debauched and degraded Canadian politics as much as the protective tariff that the World upholds. Before the friends of the World cry 'stop thief' so loudly they should stop stealing. Perhaps they have got all they can get, and now can well afford to be honest.

As is well known, a very liberal exemption law prevails in the North-West, under the authority of the North-West council. It is not so generally known that so long ago as 1878, a homestead exemption act, under the authority of the federal government, was put in force. The act applies to all the possessions of Canada, not included in any province. It provides that any man who owns land in fee simple or for life, and resides in a dwelling on that land, may register an extent of it not exceeding eighty acres if in a rural locality, or the lot upon which the dwelling stands, if in an incorporated city, town or village, as a homestead. The homestead so registered shall, while the registration continues, be wholly exempt from seizure or sale under execution, or under any act respecting insolvency, for any debt contracted after such registration to the value of $2,000; except for the amount of any mortgage given to secure the purchase money of the property or any debt to the crown on the purchase thereof, or for the amount of any taxes due thereon.
